dramatic romance, "The Corsican Brothers," tion of theatre-goers. In this revival Mr.

Robert Mantel will impersonate the dual Lame, Not Drunk.

Madie Burke, a young woman of South Washington, dressed in her ball-room clothes, was belittled at the bar at Judge Miller's Court this morning charged by Policeman Beyer with being drunk on the street. She told the judge that she was not drunk, but lame from a strained ankle that she received at the ball.

A Telephone Was Needed.

"I'm guilty, can I telephone to the gas house, yer honor?" asked Pat Lannan in the Police Court to-day when he was charged with being disorderly on the street.
He had to step back and there going no telephone for prisoners he had to go down.

THE SWEDENBORGIAN.

The Annual Session of the Association Held To-Day.

On account of the threatening weather the attendance at the annual meeting of the Swedenborgian Association was not so large as was expected. About twenty-five delegates and a hundred spectators gathered at Wesley Chapel at 10 o'clock this morning and proceeded with the business of the association. The roll-call was answered by delegates from Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and this city. Nearly all of them sent reports from the churches of which they had charge, and they showed, as a whole, a healthy increase, both in the number of new members added and the financial condition. After the reading of the annual report of the presiding officer, a motion was made to invite the general convention to hold its next meeting in this city. The motion was unanimously carried, and the invitation will doubtless be accepted. The lection of officers was the next business in the order of the day.

A number of nominations were made and after a vote the following were declared elected for the following year: Rev.
Jabez Fox, presiding minister; Rev. James R. Parmelee, vice-president; C. A. E.
Spanier, recording secretary; C. E. Browning, corresponding secretary, and F. L.
Gilpin, treasurer. These officers, together with E. D. Mussey, W. H. Swift, Peter Knapp and J. H. Douglas, comprise the members of the executive committee. At 11:30 o'clock Rev. W. R. Hayden of Washington preached a sermon, taking for his subject "The Infinite Capacity of Our Lord Jesus Christ to Draw Men to Himself." At 12:30 o'clock the convention adjourned to meet this afternoon, when the only subject will be administered and W. M. MacIntosh of Maryland will be ordained a minister.

THE EFFECT OF DRINK.

The Disgrace of a Man Whose Appertine Controlled Him.

Frank C. Fox, a well-dressed man about 40 years old, was called out of the prisoners' dock of the Police Court this morning and charged with stealing overcoats from Rev. J. H. Miller, on condition that he leaves the city for his home in New York. He stated that Fox has been in an imprisoned, and he is now not in his right mind. Judge Miller said this was plainly apparent, but it was the result of Mr. Sawyer paid the pawnbroker the amount realized by the prisoner on the overcoats. Fox was sent to jail for a few days to recuperate sufficiently to go home.
He was for several years the head clerk at Hendling's clothing store. Mr. Sawyer paid an attorney in the case and everybody who had a bill against the prisoner.

MERELY PAYING HIS RENT.

But Georgetown Democrats Thought It Was a Surrender.

The Democrats of Georgetown were shocked and humiliated this morning at seeing the Harrison and Morton flag floating from the Democratic flag-pole at Thirty-second Street and Prospect Avenue.

After the result of the election was known, Mr. H. P. Gilbert, Republican, a hardware dealer, and Michael McGowan, contractor and Democrat, made a wager like this: In the event of the election of Cleveland and Thurman, Mr. McGowan was to raise the Democratic streamer on the Harrison and Morton pole, and in the event of the election of Harrison and Morton, Mr.
Gilbert was to send aloft on the Democratic pole the Harrison and Morton streamer.

This morning was selected as the day on which the Republican flag was to go up, and Mr. McGowan, who had a hickory pole with bark on it, and the combination made a strange sight, indeed, and it was witnessed by a large crowd, the majority being Republicans.

Grand Council, Legion of Honor.

The Grand Council, American Legion of Honor of the District of Columbia, met in annual session last evening, and the following Grand Officers were elected for the ensuing year: Grand Commander, William Thomas; Vice-Grand Commander, William T. Hollins; Grand Commander, William T. Hollins; Grand Secretary, F. O'Brien; Grand Treasurer, John C. Yost; Grand Guide, William L. Cowan; Grand Chaplain, C. Mayfield; M. D. I.
Grand Warden, A. Brum; Grand Sentries, S. Batten; Grand Trustee, E. M. Dawson; three years; Representative to Supreme Council, John H. Mills; Alternate, Watson
I. Newton.

A Picture of Infidelity.

Domestic infidelity loomed up in the Police Court this morning. Judge Miller is not particularly anxious to regulate domestic difficulties and believes that the Police Court is hardly the proper place to tackle family affairs, but Mrs. John W. Palmer of 1002 G Street swore out an information against her husband for assault and threats, and the Court was forced to take cognizance of a specific charge. The evidence, however, was not sufficient to sustain the charge and the case was dismissed.

Senator Dawes' House Robbed.

While Senator Dawes' family were at dinner about 7 o'clock last evening his house, 1416 K Street, was robbed of a ladie's gold watch and chain, two saskin coats, silver spoons, silver chain, a jewel case and contents and an overcoat.

A Good Woman's Ignorance.

Anxious Mother—My son, who is it you won't accept any of these nice offers made you? Here you have a chance to learn printing, or you can go to sea, or you can join Mr. Cowboy, who is going back West and learn all about that mighty region, or you can take that job in the postoffice. Why won't you even join the militia when we are about to start?

Ambitious Son—Mother, you little know what you are saying. Have I not told you often I aspired to greater things? I hope to hold a high position at Washington some time—perhaps sit in the Cabinet.

Well, I don't see—

Of course you don't, for you never read the papers. If I learn printing I'll be unfitted for the position of Public Printer; if I go to sea I'll never be selected for Secretary of the Navy; if I learn about that mighty region I'll be unfitted for the position of Secretary of the Interior; if I become a soldier I won't do for Secretary of War; and if I learn anything about postoffices it will knock me out of all hope for the Postmaster-Generalship.
